Abstract

Geotechnical investigations has gained increasing importance as the results of which constitute the foundation for various types of construction projects including buildings and civil structures, roads and bridges, hydro projects, etc. etc.

The field of buildings, civil and road construction in Abu Dhabi had very serious accidents for a number of years.